

WAR. WAR. WAR. GREAT CRASH IN PRICES. BIG SLAUGHTER IN ALL KINDS OF GOODS.

I will sell all Goods in my house at Lower Prices than any advertised prices you will find in this or any other paper. Come and price my goods and you will be convinced. We have a full and complete stock of New Goods. In Carpets, Oil Cloths and Rugs we have knocked the bottom out. In DRESS GOODS, WASH FABRICS, EMBROIDERIES, LACES, &c. WE SMASH ALL ADVERTISED PRICES!

HICKMAN.

THE HICKMAN COURIER.

HICKMAN, KY.

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1892.

FOR CONGRESSMEN.

We are authorized to announce John H. Harrison, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

To the People of the First Congressional District of Kentucky.

I am a candidate to represent you in the Fifty-third Congress, and earnestly desire your votes for your own welfare. I promise, if elected, to represent you faithfully and to the best of my ability.

Your interest demands that I remain for the present, at my post of duty, consequently I will be deprived of the opportunity of making a thorough canvass of the district, so I would like to do so.

My candidacy is subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Respectfully,
J. H. HARRISON.

JAMES CAMPBELL, of McCracken county, is a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce H. W. W. H. Harrison, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce SAMUEL H. CHAMBERLAIN, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce JOHN W. HENNESSY, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce M. D. JOHNSON, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce J. F. BOUTWELL, of Harrison county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

CLEVELAND NOMINATED BY THE PEOPLE.

Enthusiastic Expectations of His Triumphant Election.

It is a fact that the nomination of Grover Cleveland has forced by the approximately unanimous demand from the Democratic voters of the United States.

The leaders, the politicians, the office-seekers, generally, were opposed to his nomination, and more of them that preferred him were overawed by the fear that he could not carry New York, and, therefore, that he could not be elected.

For these reasons all the legends and manipulations that the ablest political leaders could invent were worked to nominate some other candidate, in every direction, from the North, South, East and West, the people overruled the leaders with the cry for Cleveland, and this cry assumed the proportions of a cyclone and swept every thing before it.

It is the people's nominee, and the leaders are sure to fall into line and give the ticket a hearty support.

The great battle to November will be fought upon principles, freed from personalities and sectionalism, and in such a fight an immense majority of the American voters stand with the Democratic party. Cleveland represents these issues, the people know it, and, therefore, he will get an immense majority of the votes cast.

In New York, the great direct State, which has been on the mind of every Democrat hoping for success, Cleveland is 50,000 votes stronger than his party. Tammany bows to his name, and his premises a loyal support, and this we believe they will do in good faith and earnestness. Besides, the Democrats of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan talk with terrible earnestness and confidence that Cleveland is certain to carry these States. Mr. Voorhees, since the nomination, is enthusiastic in his prophesies of carrying Indiana.

Anything the prospects for the election of Cleveland and Stevenson are glorious. Here and there are some doubting Thomases, but as the battle grows warmer and hotter all will be convinced of the certainty of victory.

TARIFF REFORM was or loses with the election or defeat of Grover Cleveland. Therefore, those who think that Henry Watterson will be lagged or injured in this campaign know not his great devotion to the "Starry Goodness."

THE vast majority of Republican voters want Blaine, but the Republican Convention ignored their preference and nominated Harrison, and this all know to be true. A vast majority of the Democratic voters wanted Cleveland, and they nominated him, in face of the fact that the Democratic politicians opposed him.

THE Princeton Banner pretence on Gov. Brown's administration the most popular in the history of the State, and the Clinton Democrat that this adverse opinion "seems to prevail in all parts of the State." Gov. Brown's personal manner and personal conduct furnish the grounds of election, for on questions of political principles Brown is an upper case Democrat.

THE character and standing of a man at his home is his best introduction to the world at large. When Mr. Stevenson was home in Bloomington, Ill., after his nomination as Vice-President, business was suspended and the people on the street turned out to do him honor. The speech of welcome was delivered by Gen. McNeil, the leading Republican of the town, a gentleman whom Mr. Stevenson had twice defeated for Congress. The demonstration so touched the distinguished candidate that he could scarcely restrain his emotions as he attempted to reply to the many well-wishers. He spoke for half an hour, but he had extended to

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEST

Why Democrats Will Win.

Harrison is a weaker candidate than he was in 1888. Because it is known now that he has the majority of his party to the adoption of the infamous Force Bill.

Because his Administration has been the most extravagant and in the history of this Government.

Because he has alienated from his support such distinguished Republican leaders as James G. Blaine, Teller, Wadsworth, Platt, Miller, and others, to whom he largely owed his election in 1888; and, lastly,

Because the country, in its indignation and all kinds of indignation, is dead and languishing, and the people have been deceived as to that great whirl of prosperity the Republicans promised in the campaign of 1888.

Grover Cleveland is stronger now than in 1888.

Because Tariff Reform is better understood.

Because the people now see the contrast between his clear, pure, economical administration and the extravagant one of Mr. Harrison.

Because the people know that the Force Bill can never become a law as long as he is President.

Because the Democratic party is stronger in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin than in 1888.

Because the prospects of carrying these States are bright.

Because the growth of the Third Party in Kansas, Colorado and Minnesota endangers those States to the Republican election.

Because conservative newspapers and papers say that he is 50,000 votes stronger in New York now than he was in 1888. Tammany opposed him and now as then will support the ticket.

The New York Sun never did for Mr. Cleveland, but it can't stomach Harrison and his bill. It thinks the threatened South negro domination in the South is a question of momentous importance. Referring to the matter it says:

"The Republican party is, by its nature and traditions, under the necessity of enacting and executing an election law when passed and effect will be to put the negroes in control of several of the Southern States. On the other hand, and by the nature and necessity of the ideas involved, the Democrats of the North will support the Force Bill project. Killed in this election, it can never be revived. In this view of the matter, what conscientious Democrat can hesitate about his duty? He will vote for Grover Cleveland and the white government of the Southern States, even if the candidate was the devil himself, rather than consent to the election of respectability Benjamin Harrison with a Force Bill in his pocket."

ANYBODY who the Republicans might have nominated at St. Louis would have been stronger in New York than President Harrison. The Democratic opposition to Mr. Cleveland in this State is a trifle as compared with the Republican opposition to the President. Where are Democrats will ask half a dozen Republicans will do the same thing with Harrison. Mr. Cleveland will have the overwhelming advantage of the great body of independent voters, business, literary and professional classes and practically the entire German vote.

THE Republicans are pledged in the one cent, postage, but it seems to be a rather successful effort to get some of the burdens raised from their shoulders before they are forced to add the patent medicine and flaming circular with one cent, postage. The farmers spend very little in the run of a year for postage, while, if he would consent to the one cent, postage, he would get the most benefit by one cent, postage. Every department of the government so far as possible, should be made self-sustaining, and one cent, postage should not be dreamed of until it pays a good revenue. The farmers pay the heaviest tariff taxes and the least advertising, while these parties who want cheap postage, and who would like to use the live one cent postage pay a revenue and does away with the large appropriations made each year to sustain the Postoffice Department before increasing the farmers' burden.

Remedy for Hard Times.

Money is scarce in the pockets of those who earn it by their labor, but it is not scarce in the country. There are more than 1,000,000 in the United States in the Treasury, but it is concentrated by law instead of being distributed by labor.

The security of money in the pockets of these who earn it is to be attributed to unjust excessive taxation, and to that alone, and if 10,000,000 were distributed to-day the existing system and rate of taxation would soon concentrate it, so it has done so ever since the first war tax.

The amount of money in the Treasury is much greater to-day, in proportion to population, than it was at any time from 1880 to 1886. The average circulation per head for the eleven years ending with 1886 was $15.86.

This was the most prosperous time the country has ever known. Now we have $24 per head, and the circulation per head is $15.86.

The first war tax, and the cause of the second is high taxation. In the last period of the first war tax, the circulation per head was $15.86.

Among these who carried it. In the last period of the first war tax, the circulation per head was $15.86.

Private purposes is taking from the public treasury, and the government is being drained of its resources.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

The remedy, and the only remedy, for the evil is to remove the present system of taxation, and to replace it by one whose sole object is to collect revenue sufficient to support an economical administration of the government, and so far as possible to leave the people to their own devices.

THE HICKMAN WAGON.

HICKMAN, KENTUCKY.

What to Buy?

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

He is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

What to Buy?

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

THE HICKMAN WAGON is a man who knows no equal in the dividing American, in whose broad sympathies all Americans are embraced; who follows his own principles, and who is not swayed by the passions of the moment.

